AN IMPORTANT QUESTION

TO

PATENT OWNERS

In our pending litigation against Messrs. Jonas Northrop and C. H. Draper, of the Hopedale Manufacturing Company, a long and interesting opinion in our favor has just been rendered by Judge Dodge of the United States Court.

A certain patent, granted to Mr. C. H. Draper as assignee of Mr. Jonas Northrop, had been assigned to our company by Mr. C. H. Draper. Subsequently we discovered that certain mistakes had been made by the solicitor in drawing the patent; but Mr. Jonas Northrop, through Mr. C. H. Draper, refused to sign an application for a re-issue of the patent to correct these mistakes.

The Court holds that the case is a proper one for re-issue, and that Mr. Jonas Northrop should be compelled by decree to execute an application for such re-issue.

The decision is of general interest to owners of patents.
